

Walt Disney

A man with a powerful heart,
A man who understood the power of art.

Born in Chicago, Illinois,
He brought fantasy to every girl and boy.

He taught us the power of our dreams,
He showed us they come true, as hard as it seems.

Imagination was his gift,
He made our spirits lift.

The creator of the most famous mouse of all,
Whom, Mickey Mouse we call.

A man with a degree from Harvard and Yale,
He created the Snow White tale.

A gift he had, for animation,
But the musical "Fantasia", was also his creation.

Such an inquisitive mind this man had,
To be successful, all he needed was a drawing pad.

With fun his animations were filled,
But knowledge was also instilled.

Education was important to this man,
For the EPCOT Center he began.

He couldn't just keep the animation on TV,
Disneyland and Walt Disney World were the key.

He created two castles full of magic,
Located away from anything tragic.

With hundreds of honors, and due respect,
We honor Disneyland's architect.

He possessed imagination, with power like no other,
Remember his name, 'cause there will never be another.

For as long as his stories remain told,
Walt Disney's animations will never grow old.
